MATOCHA SECRETARY OF STATE

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

A world ruled by women was depicted by Lena Madesin Phillips of New York.

"I would scrap all battleships, all firearms, all modern weapons of defense," Miss Phillips proclaimed.

Fine! Then a woman-ruled world would be at peace? Just a moment! Let Miss Phillips proceed:

"I would leave to the people just clubs and knives; for, manifestly, one cannot organize a large scale slaughter with that type of weapon."

Well, maybe not. Still, we must remember that our remote forefathers did rather well for themselves in the slaughter line before firearms and other modern conveniences of war were evolved.

But Miss Phillips would not rest her hopes of peace entirely on reduction of armaments to the club and knife level. If she ruled the world as a province over which she had full authority, the first thing she would do would be to establish a universal language, because "when the average man and woman are able to pass over that insurmountable barrier of a strange language we will be well on our way toward having true international understanding among all people, instead of just among the leaders."

There again, is Miss Phillips sure? George Bernard Shaw once observed that a principal cause of ill feeling between Americans and Britons is a common language in which they can insult each other, and be understood. If Shaw, just this once happens to be right, wouldn't the universal language be a stimulus to use of those knives and clubs?

The American people as a rule are at once gullible and cautious.

Witness the trick of Mrs. Guy Campbell, a farmer's wife, living near Shell Lake, Wis. Her house being adjacent to a dusty highway, she grew tired of having her Monday's wash covered with dust thrown up by speeding automobiles. At the cross roads, at both ends of the road nearest her home, she placed a sign: "Washout ahead, drive slowly."

Motorists approaching took notice and traveled at a snail's pace past her home until they reached the next intersection, but found no washout. And Mrs. Campbell was no longer bothered with dust.

We have seen similar displays of trickery such as this in many sections of the country. One vineyard owner on a main highway placarded his land with signs reading: "Keep Out, Bear Traps Set." There weren't any traps, but it saved his grapes from wayside pilferers.

Another posted his orchard: "These apples have just been sprayed heavily with poison." While still another who cherished a fine patch of wild blackberries near his home erected a sign: "Beware of rattlesnakes." Both worked.

But the prize was a sign placed on a fine walnut tree growing near the highway. "These nuts are infested with a poisonous parasite." That year he saved the entire crop for himself, when ordinarily the tree would

FUTURE FARMERS GET READY FOR EXHIBITS

Members of C. H. Yoe chapter Future Farmers of America are urged to attend the regular meeting Monday night, August 31. James Leath, newly elected president, will be in charge.

Plans will be made for showing at Fairs this fall and entries will be taken for showing poultry at the Centennial F F A poultry show. Entries close for the Centennial show on Sept. 4. E. D. Parnell, Vocational Teacher, has learned and it is necessary that all entries go to Walter Burton at Dallas by that time.

The local F F A chapter will take field crop exhibits to Temple, Waco and other fairs this fall, the members recently agreed.

MCMILLION IS ELECTED COMMISSIONER NO. 1

B. M. McMillion of Buckholts won the nomination for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 in the run off primary election on Saturday August 22nd defeating Walter Fuchs by a majority of 205 votes.

McMillion, business man of Buckholts, was runner up in the primaries of 1934 being defeated by Fuchs in the run off primary. Fuchs carried only two boxes in the precinct, Yarrellton and Burlington. Six boxes were taken by McMillion by large majorities.

Fuchs succeeded his late father, H. A. Fuchs as Commissioner and had served two terms including the appointive term. McMillion has been engaged in business in Buckholts for a number of years. His home town gave him a majority of 101 votes. The following table will show the results:

CORN WEEVIL CONTROL FORMULA IS GIVEN

The corn weevil, already attacking the crop in the field and due to be worse than in many years, can and should be destroyed as soon as the crop is gathered, E. D. Parnell, Vocational teacher advises, and offers the following recommendations for control of the insect.

Before gathering the corn clean out all shucks and other material that may harbor weevils and line the crib with two thicknesses of heavy building paper. This will make the crib tight enough for fumigation and at little expense. When corn is gathered figure the number of cubic feet in the barn by multiplying depth, by length by with.

Hi-life or carbon di-sulphide is the cheapest and most effective gas to use. Buy one gallon for each 1,000 cubic feet of corn, pour it in shallow pans on top of the corn to allow for quick evaporation and cov-

Rape Charge Follows Attack on Cameron Girl Saturday Night

A rape charge has been filed against Harrell Allen of Buckholts by Sheriff R. M. Kennedy.

It was said at the office of the sheriff that Allen is being held in jail after he had been arrested a second time in connection with an attack on a Cameron girl. The couple had attended a dance in Buckholts.

When the case was first brought to the attention of the sheriff charges of assault with intent to rape were filed. After a physician had examined the girl Allen was re-arrested Monday and placed in jail again. In the first arrest a bond of $1,000 was promptly made.

This is the second rape case with recent months in the county.

Football Meeting On Athletic Field Friday Night 28th

A football meeting will be held on the Athletic Field Friday night Aug. 28. All boys interested in coming out for the 1936 Yoemen team are urged to attend this meeting.

Coach L. C. Wood will speak to the squad on topics concerning the 1936 season. Refreshments will be served.

WANTED Football Players

(PEEPING REPORTER)

Football season is just around the corner and with the first game less than a month away, Coach Wood is wondering where the material for a football team is coming from this year.

With only five of the old lettermen to build a team about, Peck, Joe McLean, Mode, Poole and Stuart, Coach Wood is making a desperate effort to gather in a squad of "rookies" before the practice begins on Monday August 31. The lads are a bit shy about coming out this year because of the "sweater delay" of last season, but they need not worry about that this year because the Athletic Council can merely have the last year sweaters cleaned and pressed and the boys wont be able to distinguish them from new sweaters because it is certain that they were not worn any last winter.

Everyone is betting on Coach Wood and his boys to win the district Championship this fall but no one is bothering to encourage "little Johnny" to try out for the team.

Joe Gerick Jr., prominent citizen of the Ad Hall community, has accepted the position as manager of the Anna Kamenicky Gin in Pettibone.

Mr. Gerick announced the installation of new ginning machinery in the Kamenicky Gin, by which he hopes to serve the cotton farmers of that community with the best ginning turnout available. The three new cleaning plants recently installed will assure patrons a better price for their cotton.

Six thoroughly experienced gin operators are employed by the Kamenicky Gin.

Held In Theft of Cow From Farm

Quick work, the recovery of a cow, a much surprised farmer and the arrest of a young man for theft, figured in the days work for Deputy Sheriff Dan Gunn last Thursday.

Henry Steele of Lott has been released under $500 bond charged with stealing a cow from the Wallace Moody farm near Cameron. The cow was recovered and returned to Mr. Moody before he knew the animal had been taken from his farm. Dan Gunn made the arrest. The cow was found in a pasture Southwest of Belton.

Mrs. B. J. Baskin has returned home from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Mississippi.

"DEPRESSION ENDS"

SONG WRITER CATCHES SPIRIT OF BETTER DAYS

Something unique in beneficial advertising has been evolved by J. D. Lewis of Buckholts, song writer, orchestra leader, composer and music teacher.

Mr. Lewis has made a significant contribution to recovery. He has written a song that imortalizes the spirit of better days. The title of this song is "Old Depression's Ended," and appears in this issue of The Herald in connection with an entire page of advertisements to sponsor its publication.

This song with verse and music will be taken into the music rooms of thousands of homes and played and sung. Its spirit will serve well to emphasize that the depression is ended and that recovery has turned the corner and better and brighter days are here.

The value of this co-operate page at once appeals to the advertiser. It is not the usual scheme of cooperative pages, but stands out as a definitely valuable contribution to the times and will no doubt find a wide appeal all over the nation.

The idea is entirely original with Mr. Lewis who expressly forbids republication of the page or use of the material in any way without permission. The song and the idea is being copyrighted. It is the first time a song has been written and published in connection with a co-operative advertising page. It has the widest sort of appeal and advertisers readily accepted the opportunity to aid in sponsoring this song, first because of the value of the idea and in addition, to recognize the talents of one of the most prominent young men of the county.

Mr. Lewis since a small boy has followed the profession of music, later becoming an orchestra leader. He made the J. D. Lewis Orchestra famous all over the south. He has had several songs published, writes music and songs and teaches music.

In recent months Mr. Lewis has been in poor health and devotes his entire time to his art. He plans to bring out a number of new songs this year and has hit upon this idea to make them popular and give them to

FARMERS ARE URGED TO ATTEND MEETING

Farmers of Milam County are urged to attend and participate in the district-wide Farmers' Meeting to be held at Temple on Sept. 2nd. The meeting is one of 12 to be held in Texas during the latter part of August and through September, under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture and A. & M. College.

Purpose of the meetings is to further acquaint farmers and their wives with the national agricultural program, to discuss the importance of stronger farm organization, to study methods of community organization and legislation affecting agriculture and to sell more thoroughly, business and professional men on the value of an adequate agricultural program to business as well as to farmers.

Although the meeting at Temple will extend over a period of 2 days, the first day will be devoted exclusively to farmers, while the second day will be confined to meeting of speakers with civic and business bodies of Temple and surrounding towns.

Heading the list of prominent speakers to appear on both programs is Dr. R. H. Montgomery, notionally-known agricultural economist and educator, on leave from Washington to participate in the programs. Other important speakers will be W. H. Darrow, Southwestern Representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration; Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, Editor of Extension Service News; R. H. Bush, Organization Specialist of A. & M. Having hunted up anl chopped the wood, built the fire and broiled the steak, a local head of a nature-loving family begins to think a picnic is no picnic.

Most people enjoy leaving the grind of urban life for a fling in the great outdoors for communion with nature, but many scoff at the idea of roughing it and much prefer to remain in town close to the electric fan, air conditioned buildings and other comforts of urban life. Dr. Samuel Johnson never took but one vacation in the country. He returned and immediately declared that whoever was tired of London was tired of life. Lamb, too, was never happy outside of London, and when induced to make a seashore tour, noted the various degrees of boredom and misery endured at the different resorts he visited. Charles Monselet, Victor Hugo's friend who spent all of his days in Paris, when asked why he never visited the country, replied: "The country? It is a place where the birds and raw!" These are greatly in the minority. Most of us find that communion with nature in the raw is good medicine for our jaded bodies.

"THE CALL TO ATTACK"

The common cold germ is marshalling his forces for the annual attack. Soon this insidious enemy will prepare to live up to his reputation as America's greatest enemy to good health. Each year more than two hundred million "common colds" undermine the health of the nation and often pave the way for such serious illnesses as pneumonia, bronchitis, influenza, tuberculosis, and other health-wrecking respiratory diseases.

Leading doctors tell us that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold." And the invisible but dangerous cold germ finds one of his best opportunities in homes where occupants are most liable to sudden changes of temperature. Therefore, it is a wise precaution to avoid the possibility of sudden changes of temperature in your home this coming winter by providing a constant circulation of pure warm air throughout the house.

Use your home to the fullest this winter as you have during the summer. It will assist you to fight the common cold germ, the leading threat to good health.

According to government statistics, diseases of our breathing apparatus are responsible for about one death in every five. Don't gamble with a cold.

Fire Extinguisher Subdues Angry Bull

Palo Alto, Calif.—Police Chief Robert Rugan believes that he can give Spanish bullfighters some points.

When his squad was called out to corner an enraged bull on Stanford university campus, police entrenched themselves behind an automobile and with a battery of fire extinguishers squirted irritating liquids until the bull capitulated.

HANGING OF APACHE IS BADLY BUNGLED

Indian Dangles 32 Minutes at End of Rope.

San Carlos, Ariz.—A macabre Indian plot to massacre his guards, having been foiled by machine guns, an Apache stood on a gallows here and raised both hands toward the rising sun in a centuries-old supplication.

Then the trap was sprung and thirty-year-old Earl B. Gardner, three-time murderer, his last victims being his wife and year-old son, plunged to his death.

But as the black-hooded body hurtled downward, Gardner's left arm struck the planking and his head banged against the other side of the opening, breaking the force of the fall.

Then began a weird dance of death as Gardner fought for breath against the noose that was slowly strangling him.

Twenty minutes after the trap was sprung a guard stepped up and with rough mercy pulled the noose hard against the Indian's neck. Twelve minutes later he was pronounced dead.

Warned by Indian scouts before they removed Gardner from the Globe jail that several hundred tribesmen were gathering two miles east of here, Deputy U. S. marshals sprayed streams of machine gun bullets into the darkness as the cavalcade moved through the country to the gallows.

Frightened by the eerie demonstration, the Apaches fled into the hills. Ringleaders of the plot to rescue Gardner were caught by reservation police and jailed here.

Police Dogs Are Used to Catch Escaped Prisoners

Washington.—Use of specially trained Swiss police dogs to capture escaped prisoners from federal penal institutions was disclosed in house committee hearings on the Department of Justice just released.

These highly trained dogs cost $375 or more each, but they have such a marvelous record of "getting their man" that they are worth it, Sanford Bates, director of prisons, reported.

The Justice department plans to purchase more of the dogs, he told an appropriations subcommittee.

Six federal prisons already have the big dogs. They not only run down and capture escaped prisoners, but protect prison guards.

The dogs also watch prisoners working on prison farms or outside the prison walls, ready to attack any prisoner who tries to make a "break."

Describing the training of the animals, Bates said they are bought by the government when about two years old and trained to become "one-man" dogs, answering only to their particular guard. The animals are trained for six months in Switzerland before shipment, and on importation each is given additional training with the guard who is to have future control of him.

Afraid Fireman Might Swallow Teeth on Plate

Milwaukee, Wis.—A city fireman must have at least 24 natural teeth to meet physical requirements for that job. The fire and police commission so decided.

Dr. Stephen Cahana, who, at the instance of John P. Luer, chairman of the commission, and Peter Steinkellner, fire chief, drew up the requirements ruled out dental plates as hazards.

A fireman in fighting a blaze might swallow his plate and choke, Steinkellner agreed with the doctor. Asked by Commissioner Chauncey Yockey whether an accident of that type ever had happened, the chief said "No."

The new standard fireman must be at least five feet seven inches tall and not more than six feet four inches; weight at least 150 pounds, not more than 225, minimum age twenty-one, maximum twenty-nine.

MOVING PICTURES TO HELP IDENTIFY PUBLIC ENEMIES

Important Step in Detection of Crime Developed by Schwarzkopf.

New York.—The most important step in the science of crime detection since introduction of fingerprinting 35 years ago has been taken by the federal bureau of investigation in testing the practicability of criminal identification by use of sound motion pictures.

If the plan is carried out, G-men will turn producers and footloose criminals all over the country will be cast in roles of bad actors.

Sound pictures of known criminals, taken in advance, will be released in theaters in localities where the outlaws are known to be hiding, in the event they make their escape from prison.

Public to Aid Hunts.

The future Dillingers and Karpises will be the quarry in a gigantic manhunt—with the public actively engaged. This is the forecast made by world police officials.

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, retired superintendent of the New Jersey state police, dramatized the sound picture system and recorded his own work in perfecting it in a recent demonstration in Trenton, N. J., attended by 500 police authorities from Great Britain, Canada, and the United States.

Col. Schwarzkopf has turned his material over to the federal bureau of investigation at Washington. Hugh Clogg, assistant to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau, will conduct research on furthering the sound process of detection.

Library Is Objective.

The logical development of the new method would be establishment of a motion picture library of habitual criminals in the Department of Justice building, supplementing the national clearing house for fingerprints. Master negatives showing individual criminals could be kept there, and positive films sent to all enforcement agencies in the United States.

Already work is being conducted on compact and inexpensive equipment. Portable sets have been built which may be transported in a small car, as baggage.

Files of the federal bureau of identification show that 10,000 dangerous criminals are continually at large. At one time or another, often many times, most of these fugitives have been arrested, fingerprinted and their "portraits" placed in the country's rogues' galleries. Arrested frequently enough, and sufficiently publicized, they may be easily recognized; but in crowds and on remote streets they are even then comparatively safe. Now police hope to make these men known to thousands rather than hundreds. They expect to make the "public enemy" virtually arrest himself by the way he places his feet, or by an inflection in his voice.

Smugglers Crash Gates at Frontier and Escape

Paris.—Armored trucks fitted with solid tires and specially constructed cow-catchers to break through customs barriers are now being used by smugglers on the Franco-Belgian frontier.

The first to make its appearance turned up at the French frontier town of Hondschoote the other night and not only successfully broke the cables which customs' officials had stretched across the road but was able to escape after doing so.

Moving at about ten miles an hour, the heavy six-ton truck plowed its way through the barriers and then showed amazing speed when frontier guards gave chase in two other cars. Bullets could not pierce the solid tires of the truck and the smugglers sprinkled the road with nails and tacks so the customs' cars had to give up the chase when their tires were punctured.

This is the first time such a vehicle has ever been used by smugglers and officials are now thinking of asking that anti-tank guns be placed at their disposal in order to combat this latest invention of the smugglers.

Mice Are Named as $7,500 Damage Suit Defendants

Paris.—A claim for $7,500 damages against five mice has been made by a Paris woman, who asserts that the rodents caused her to undergo an unnecessary operation.

The mice were used in a laboratory for disease tests, and, according to their reaction after certain injections, operations were decided on.

The woman states that after tests, the mice indicated that she would have to undergo an operation, which was performed. Later, doctors stated that the operation was entirely unnecessary.

In 1929 when H. G. Wells was invited to speak in Berlin before the Reichstag, he made an observation concerning the Olympic games, "Instead of becoming a sort of love-feast for all the people, these meetings, with their displays of national symbols and national partisanship, seem to intensify a vicious patriotism in both, participants and spectators. They are recurrent demonstrations of the absolute unsoundness and harmfulness of the international as distinguished from the cosmopolitan idea. They exilerate comparison and competition between nations." Such a speech would be hooted down in the Reichstag today. Germany has changed. Her nationalism has become a dangerous disease.

She knows that war will bleed her common people; she has no economic aims which war could gratify; she wants the be let alone that she may still further reconstruct her life. The reasons are, or should be, good enough for us, too; good enough to make us determine to keep the peace in a troubled world.

The Canadian city of Vancouver is celebrating its golden jubilee this year. Vancouver began with two villages, Moodyville and Grandville, back in the 1860's. Later it was given the undignified cognomen, "Gastown," by a windy character called "Gassy Jack." In 1884 some artistic person suggested the beautiful name, "Vancouver," by which the city has since been known to the world. It is hard to believe that the great city was ever known as Canadian "Gastown."

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Thedford's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams, of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Thedford's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

One more attempt to "modernize" the Bible is announced by a New York publisher. Such money makers, notwithstanding the fact that year after year the Bible continues to be one of the best sellers among books. This one makes the curious concession that it retains the King James version but attempts to make it "more readable" by giving it the appearance of a modern book in type, character spacing, headings and other devices.

The hindrance in the way of these well-meant undertakings is the weight of tradition always associated with the Book. In terms of our modern speech, the King James version is not always accurate in conveying the meaning of the original languages in which the Bible was written. But comparatively few other versions are sold.

In large past probably, the millions of Bibles annually sold are bought by old people to give to young people. The buyers want the Bible they were taught when they were young.

CAMERON— SOON

NAIL IN LUNG OF CHILD 18 MONTHS SAFELY REMOVED

Three-Year Old Australian Boy Travels 9,000 Miles to Get Relief.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Less than 24 hours after three-year-old Kelvin Rogers arrived here from Australia, a nail that had been lodged in his lung for a year and a half was removed at Temple university hospital in a seven minute operation.

The boy made the 9,000 mile journey with his mother after physicians in his native land had tried twice, without success, to remove the three-inch wire nail he accidentally inhaled.

Operation Delicate One.

The operation was performed in the clinic of Dr. Chevalier Jackson, famed inventor of the perfected bronchoscope. One of his instruments and a biplane fluoroscope were used in the delicate task. The nail was in the lower part of the right lung.

The tiny electric light was used to permit the surgeon to see the inside of the lung, somewhat in the manner of an X-ray, so he could attach small forceps to the nail and remove it.

Surgeons formerly removed foreign bodies from the lungs and bronchial tubes by making incisions. The mortality rate was high. Perfection of the Jackson bronchoscope and the technique for its use have now made the operation bloodless.

Before the operation is performed the position of the foreign object is usually studied by X-ray. Sometimes its position requires a change in the shape of the instrument to be used or a special curve in the tube. All these requirements are studied before the operation is undertaken.

Anesthetic Not Used

Because the patient must breathe through the tube inserted in his throat, a general anesthetic is not given. Narcotics are used to deaden feelings in the throat and decrease respiration.

Then the metal tube is inserted in the mouth. A tiny electric light is lowered into the tube and a special eye piece permits the surgeon to see the object for which he is probing.

Special forceps meet every type of requirement.

The slender forceps are inserted in the tube. With them the surgeon manipulates the object into position and draws it into the mouth of the tube. The bronchoscope is then withdrawn, carrying the object with it.

Hindu Uses Hypnotism in Holdups on Riviera

Nice, France.—A Hindu's hypnotic holdups with an "all-powerful eye" which leads cashiers and clerks to pay without a murmur is mystifying the French Riviera.

A Hindu magician strolled into a travel office, gazed at the cashier until he submitted to his will and handed over 4,000 francs (about $275) from the till.

"I could not resist his eyes," the cashier told the police.

On another occasion, the Hindu walked into a bank, threw a bundle of banknotes on the counter and asked the cashier to change them for a note of large denomination. The cashier found there were 100 francs more than the Hindu had said.

"You are an honest man," the Hindu said, "and as a reward I will read your hand."

The cashier said the Hindu took his left hand, gazed into his eyes, and began ordering him to take money out of the cash box.

"I felt I suddenly lost all my will-power," he said, "and it was only five minutes after he had gone that I recalled I had given him money. I was hypnotized."

A cashier in a hotel at Cannes told a similar story. The Hindu just gazed at him and he gave up $80, all there was in the till.

The Hindu even hypnotized a Riviera barman into giving him a drink without paying.

Dead Woman Wins Suit in French Law Courts

Nice.—To a dead woman has been awarded more than $1,250 damages against a dead man in the French law courts.

The woman was Mme. Paulette Revertegat of Antibes. She sued Vincent Lombardi, a plumber, whose lorry smashed into her car in 1928.

The action was started soon after the accident, but the law moves slowly and three years later the woman died—as the result of her injuries, it was asserted. Then the plumber also died, death being from natural causes.

Now, at last, judgment has been given. It upholds the dead woman's claim, and the plumber's widow must pay Mme. Revertegat's heirs $1,250, plus interest from the time of the accident.

ICERS CINCH SECOND IN LEAGUE SCHEDULE

The Cameron Icers are cinched for second place in Heart O' Texas league after defeating the Moody Ramblers a double header, 10 to 6 and 5 to 2, at Moody, Sunday.

Cameron started the first game with Ramsey in the box. Moody used Kloerner to start. Moody's first pitcher lasted until the 4th inning when the Icers batted around taking five hits and making five runs off of Kloerner. However, Ramsey was forced to throw in the sponge in the 8th when Poindexter, Bondurant and Welch each got a two base hit and Evans hit a home run with one man on for Moody. Lefty Wright the Icers outfielder, who was found to be something of a pitcher, replaced Ramsey striking out the next five men to face him to ed the first game with Cameron 10 runs 8 hits and no errors. Moody 6 runs, 12 hits and two errors.

Allen and Olle got home runs for Cameron and Evans hit two home runs for Moody. Ramsey struck out four men and walked one. Wright struck out five men, walked 0. Kloerner struck out 3 men, walked five. Burton struck out four men, walked three.

Score by Inning:

Cameron—000 513 001—10
Moody —000 300 030— 6

Allen and Olle two hits each. Poindexter and Welch were leading hitters for Moody the first game.

The second game was a seven inning affair, seriously hampered by wind and dust that blew up during the game.

Evans took the mound for Moody and Wright continued to pitch for Cameron. Wright held the boys to seven hits and struck out 16 men in the 9 innings he worked. Both teams' pitchers had superb fielding backing them. There were only two errors credited in both games and they were made by Moody. Williams was playing the second base position for the Icers in top notch form until he stuck his finger into a ball in the last part of playing, yet he completed that play with a bloody finger and dangling finger nail. The Icers came out with five runs, seven hits and no errors. Moody two runs, seven hits and no errors.

Wright struck out 11 men, walked three; Evans struck out five men, walked two.

Score by Inning:

Cameron—103 000 1—5
Moody — 000 200 0—2

Wright got two doubles and Poindexter got one.

The next game for the Icers will be the play off in the finals against the Temple Surgeons or Magnolia Beer of Waco. These two teams have played two games, each winning one. After one more game between them to decide the winner, arrangements will be made for the Icers to play a series with the winners.

This 19th day of August, A. D. 1936.

In London the men still take off their hats when they pass the great World war memorial, the Cenotaph. I have seen Americans sit on the grave of the Unknown Soldier and smoke a cigarette during the absence of the guard. The only people who lift their hats are the veterans and those who lost sons during the war, or were otherwise keenly touched by the war.

Freedom of Judgment

—is essential to sound banking policies.

THIS bank has no special interests to serve or motives to satisfy other than strict adherence to the principles and practices of good, every day banking. It is free to use its best thought and to exercise its honest opinion on the merits of every transaction presented for its consideration. Its judgment as to the loans it grants and the investments it makes are unswayed by considerations that are not directly a part of safe, conservative and constructive banking.

We believe that this is fundamental to sound banking practice—that it is also the friendliest type of service we can render our depositors and our Community.

Greece has entered the column of the dictatorships. At the time of the creation of the dictatorship, she was on the verge of a revolution. At the roots of Greece's trouble lie the ever-increasing economic crisis. A meagre harvest serves to intensify the trouble. Hungry mouths contain the germs of revolution. People who are blinded by hunger can't think; they are ready to respond to any propaganda which promises to replenish their larders. Statesmen should learn that the masses cannot be "downed." The strong arm may be able to keep them down for years, but they seem to possess immortality; in time they will arise and smite the strong arm that held them in check. The serfs of the Middle Ages after centuries of exploitation and penury broke the intolerable shakles. Out of the aspirations of the masses has come democracy. It is a creature of revolution. Democracy which is today in the discard will be REBORN.

Considering how fine this railroad transportation is nowadays, you can't travel any cheaper. Fares lowest in history—substantial savings on round trip tickets. So why not take the train? It's safer. It's more dependable.

You can't beat the improved travel comfort in coaches and sleeping cars. It's a good thing movies don't have such restful seats — most folks would sure fall asleep.

Ever hear about the new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight? It's a great convenience to shippers and receivers alike. Western railroads pick up at the door, ship by fast freight, and deliver to door at no extra charge.

Railroad trains are running on faster schedules these days. Seems like the iron horse wants to show these new streamlined diesels that he can step out, too. Both passenger and freight schedules have been speeded up.

What's more, the railroads believe in "safety first." Last year not one passenger was killed in a train accident on western railroads.

Talk to your local railroad agent. He's full of information about traveling and shipping.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

the American public.

Mrs. Lewis is assisting him in this work and the large page display in this issue is made possible by her efforts and the co-operation of advertisers in Buckholts and in Cameron.

The Herald has co-operated also in this matter, being interested in bringing to its readers anything of interest and new in idea and scope.

The Editor publishes in this connection portion of a letter written to him by Mr. Lewis:

"You have asked that I write something about myself, how I happened to turn musical, etc, but I think it would be more appropriate to write about you, the man who has made it possible for me to put some of my work before the public. I have known you for several years, but never had any business dealings with you before. When I came to you with this proposition I expected you to be just another hard boiled editor, but to my surprise found you a very human kind of fellow. You didn't tell me before I had a chance to explain my proposition, that you were not interested in what I had, as most of the business world does new ideas, but to the contrary I found you to be an editor that was looking for new ideas, or any material that might be of interest to your readers."

Music lovers and those who appreciate local talent should clip this music from the page, paste it in and get the spirit of the popular song that is destined to play a big part in national recovery.

Rural schools assisted in arranging for hot lunches in schools, also in planning for better health and sanitation conditions.

Loan Closet for sick-room supplies maintained through donations. These articles loaned to families unable to obtain them for themselves.

Observations:

Co-operation of physicians has enabled the nurse to have examinations of children where parents could not afford to attend to these matters.

Co-operating with Texas Society for Crippled Children we have taken several to hospitals.

We are alarmed at the great number of cases of tuberculosis in Milam County and look forward to assisting in steps to check its spread.

Weevil

er the top over with wagon sheets. The hi-life should not be put in bottles or jugs and buried in the grain as it evaporates too slow in this way.

Other chemicals may be used for treating grain but it is not thought advisable to depend on the use of salt and sulphur or the use of cockleburs or other weeds thrown in the corn. These methods may be of some help but will not control a heavy outbreak of the weevils.

It should be remembered that hi-life fumes are heavier than air, and for that reason the liquid should be placed on top of the grain. The liquid should be well distributed over the grain and not poured in one spot. Spreading a wagon sheet over the liquid helps to hold the fumes longer, assuring a more complete kill of the weevils.

It is well to treat on a hot day, thus quicker evaporation is assured, and the stronger the concentration of gas is formed the more weevils will be killed. Hi-life fumes are explosive so fire should be kept away and one should avoid breathing the fumes during treatment of grain. Fumigation with hi-life will not kill the germination of well cured corn or grain sorghum.
